Hi Cindy,

I looked through the website and could not find the revised form Std 399. Is that posted, I could only find the November 16th 2012 version? The April 4, 2013 Notice of Availability states that it is revised in the third paragraph.

As you know, I requested that document to be re-written to more accurately reflect the factual basis described in the Cost Analysis, as well as for numerous other comments that Melinda and I had. If that document has not been posted, I formally request an extension on the 15 day notice period for public review of that document once it is posted.

Thanks,

Erik Ringelberg
