2 Briefs are due as follows:

3 Petitioners' Opening Briefs: October 15, 2014

4 Respondents' Opposition Brief : April 6, 2015

5 Petitioners' Reply/Response Briefs: May 21, 2015

6 3. Joint Briefs

7 Petitioners may file joint briefs (e.g., several petitioner groups combining their page limits 8 to file a longer opening or reply brief).

9 4. Ability of Petitioners to Respond to Other Petitioners' Briefs

10 Petitioners may respond to other Petitioners' opening briefs in their reply briefs so long as 11 those responses are included within the page limits for Petitioners' reply briefs.

12 5. Ability of Petitioners to Incorporate / Adopt All or Portions of Other Petitioners' Briefs

13 Petitioners may incorporate by reference all, or portions, of other Petitioners' briefs. Any 14 portion incorporated by reference in a brief shall count for all purposes as if the incorporated

16 6. Motions to Intervene

17 Petitioners may file motions to intervene between the dates of November 1, 2014, and

26 contain the information outlined in California Rule of Court section 8.200, subsections (c)(2)-(3) 27 (e.g., information related to the party's interest, how the brief will assist the Court, authors, and 28 monetary contributions). Opposition/response briefs are limited to eight (8) pages per Petitioner

1 group (for a maximum of 56 pages total per amicus brief) or Respondent, may include reasons
2 why the Court should not allow the amicus brief in addition to addressing the merits, and must be 3 filed by the time the response brief of the opposing/responding party is due (e.g., the Council's 4 response to any amicus filed in support of Petitioners would be due at the same time as its 5 opposition brief on the merits and Petitioners' response would be due at the same time as their 6 reply brief on the merits).

7 8. Augmenting the Record

8 All issues related to augmenting the record are deferred. A party may bring a specific 9 motion to augment when and if appropriate.
