Curtailment of Delta ISB Activities

As discussed at the Delta ISB's September 17, 2020 meeting, members of the Delta ISB are now acting as unpaid volunteers. The State of California has not yet secured a way to financially compensate Delta ISB members for its activities, as they have done in the past. The timetable to resolve this issue is unknown. This status necessitates curtailing the agenda and activities of the Delta ISB to a much lower volunteer level. Consequently, substantial delays in many of the Delta ISB's anticipated and legislatively mandated reviews, products, and activities are expected. The Delta ISB looks forward to returning to its high level of productivity as soon as the State resolves this issue.

Purpose

The Delta ISB will moderate a panel discussion on the state of knowledge on food-webs in the Bay-Delta to help orient new members on the topic and to help inform current and future reviews. Panelists include Dr. Wim Kimmerer (San Francisco State University) and Dr. Ted Sommer (California Department of Water Resources).

In addition, the Delta ISB will meet to discuss its latest draft report: "The Science of Non-native Species in a Dynamic Delta," which was prepared as part of the Delta ISB's responsibility to provide scientific oversight of programs that support adaptive management of the Delta. Based on the discussion, the Delta ISB may take action on next steps and consider approving the content of the report for submittal to the Delta Stewardship Council.

This section describes the highlights. For more information about the meeting, refer to the agenda below.

The agenda items listed below may be considered in a different order pursuant to the determination of the Delta ISB chair. Times listed on the agenda are approximate only.
